READY FOR 100 HALLOWEEN CAMPAIGN KICKOFF PARTY

Atlanta is ready for 100% clean and renewable energy, and environmental justice for all!

Following the passage of the Atlanta City Council Resolution this year, we are kicking off our Ready For 100 campaign here in Atlanta. Join us on Friday, October 27 from 7 - 10 PM for a creepy fun time!

Not only will we enjoy a spooky celebration together, but we will also discuss how you can plug into the Ready For 100 campaign locally and within your own communities.

Feel free to bring clean energy-themed drinks and costumes!

Please direct any questions to Misty Novitch, Ready For 100 Organizing Representative by sending an email to misty.novitch@sierraclub.org.

ADVOCATING AT THE LOCAL LEVEL

Become an Important Bird Person in Your Community!

Join the Atlanta Audubon Society on Saturday, October 28, 9 AM - 12 PM at the Blue Heron Nature Preserve for "Advocating at the Local Level."

This special workshop will feature excellent strategies and techniques for learning how to work at the local government policy level. The event will be led by our Chapter Director Ted Terry, who brings a unique perspective as an environmental policy activist and a city-level public servant. Ted will guide workshop attendees through steps you can take in your own community to move toward more bird-friendly and environmentally responsible policies.

This workshop is only $5 for Atlanta Audubon and Sierra Club members and $8 for non-members. We hope to see you there!
