Back 40 Proposed Mine Project

Do you remember Gobebic Taconite, the huge disastrous mine that threatened to be built in northwestern Wisconsin. Fortunately, citizen action prevented the mine from opening.

The Back Forty Mine is much closer to us, in Michigan near the Wisconsin border along the Menominee River. Aquila Resources wants to develop an open pit (2000ft wide x 750ft deep) as a massive gold, zinc, and sulfide mine 150ft from the Menominee River. The Menominee River is the largest river system in the Upper Peninsula and flows into the Bay of Green Bay and Lake Michigan. Presented by: William Van Lopik ESTHER-Fox Valley Community Organizer and adjunct Environmental Science Instructor at the College of Menominee Nation; and Guy Reiter, Menominee Tribal Organizer.

Summer Picnic

Come share your summer with fellow Sierrans.

Grill will be provided. Bring a dish to pass, your own meat for grilling, beverages, and place setting.

Meetings are normally at Bubolz Nature Preserve.

4693 North Lynndale Dr., Appleton, WI.

It is the same driveway as Bubolz. Follow the signs.

From the Chair

March 2017, By Alan Lawrence

My last column was written in November, just days after the elections. I believe that most Sierra Club members wanted a different outcome, at all levels of the election. Somehow, in recent years, environmental protection and climate change and renewable energy have become political. I said it was too early to see what the election landslide will really mean for the environmental issues that matter to us. But I said I thought that my work as an environment protector would be more difficult with our new political environment.

I write this column approximately 50 days after President Trump's Inauguration. We now have confirmation that our President, and many in the Senate and House are taking us in the wrong direction with climate and environmental issues.

This is enough to dismay us, but we need to remember that Sierra Club has been fighting for the environment since 1892. In that 125 years Sierra Club's motto and mission to "Explore, Enjoy and Protect the Planet" have been important guiding principles for the organization and its members.

Despite approval (and encouragement) from the White House for construction of the Keystone XL Pipeline and the Dakota Access Pipeline, and for approvals and encouragement to the coal mining industry, we must take the long view. Those are dying industries. Solar energy is as popular with conservatives for the independence it gives them as it is with "greenies". Renewable energy is gaining traction because it really is cheaper and because other countries will continue growing their independence from fossil fuels.

Our Fox Valley Sierra Group has several notable events coming up soon. Earth Day, April 22, is fast approaching. We are hosting our 3rd Annual Fox River Earth Day Hike, and doing it this year on Earth Day. We are starting our event from Telulah Park this year. Plan to join us, if you can, for some enjoyment of spring and nature around Appleton's Fox River.

Fox River Earth Day Hike

April 22, 2017 • Earth Day

... from the chair

That afternoon a Science March is planned, starting at Lawrence University. A week later, on April 29, we have organized a Climate Rally to support the Climate March taking place in Washington, DC that day. Many cities are hosting their own sister marches and rallies. Madison is combining the two events and holding it on April 22.

Noon to 1:00 at Houdini Plaza

Earth Day began with teachers and citizens interested in making changes. The first Earth Day on April 22, 1970, activated 20 million Americans from all walks of life and is widely credited with launching the modern environmental movement. The passage of the landmark Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, Endangered Species Act and many other groundbreaking environmental laws soon followed. Twenty years later, Earth Day went global, mobilizing 200 million people in 141 countries and lifting environmental issues onto the world stage. More than 1 billion people now participate in Earth Day activities each year, making it the largest civic observance in the world.

The Fox Valley Sierra Group is celebrating our 35th year anniversary on May 11. We are having dinner at Pullmans Restaurant on the shore of the Fox River in Appleton. Bill Davis and Spencer Black are our guest speakers. Bill Davis is our Chapter Director. Spencer Black has served as Chapter Chairperson, State Legislator, and Sierra Club Board of Directors. You will not want to miss this. In fact, some of your non-Sierra friends would probably find this interesting. They are welcome. Registration is strongly encouraged.

Our anniversary celebration reminds us where we have been, and what lays ahead. We certainly have a lot to do ahead. But it also reminds us that we are stronger together.

A few years ago, my wife told me that "government respects its people by respecting their natural resources." I believe that simple statement is helpful to us as we communicate to our leaders and to our communities. That statement helps to guide our efforts.

Thanks for reading my comments. As leader of our group I welcome your feedback. Alan Lawrence, 920-730-9515 or alan_lawrence99@yahoo.com. [Please visit our website for more information on the events mentioned]

North Country Trail Challenge

by Kelly Ramstack

We are blessed to have two National Scenic Trails in our state: the Ice Age Trail and the North Country Trail. The Fox Valley Group has a long history with the Ice Age Trail (IAT) from building new sections, maintaining old ones, leading hikes and supporting events like the IAT Hike-a-Thon. But I can't think of an event or outing that we as a group have held on the North Country Trail (NCT). Perhaps that's due to the proximity of the trail to our group's usual stomping grounds. 200 of the 4,600 miles of the NCT pass through Douglas, Bayfield, Ashland and Iron Counties in northwestern Wisconsin. The closest Wisconsin section of the NCT is a four hour drive from Appleton. Not exactly convenient but that doesn't mean the trail should be ignored.

In 2016 in conjunction with the National Park Service Centennial, the North Country Trail Association (NCTA) launched a Hike 100 Challenge. The goal? Hike 100 miles on any part of the NCT in the year 2016. You could hike the same two miles over and over again or hike a new section each time. It didn't matter how or where you got your miles, just that you got them done by December 31st. My husband and I took on the challenge. In April we backpacked the entire length of Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore for a total of 42 miles. Then in August we picked up 3 more miles when we volunteered with the Heritage Chapter of the NCTA building new trail near Copper Falls State Park. In October we backpacked in Porcupine Mountains State Park for another 22 miles. But then work commitments and gun hunting season got in the way so we fell 33 miles short of the goal. I was a little bummed we weren't able to finish the challenge (a special patch was awarded to all finishers) but I was happy that the challenge got us out on the trail a little more than usual. But guess what - there's a challenge this year as well!

The Hike 100 Challenge is back for 2017 but this year there's also a Build It Challenge. The Build It Challenge is meant to not only physically build and maintain the trail but to also build awareness and support of the NCT. To learn more about the challenge or to sign up, visit northcountrytrail.org.

The Fox Valley Group is partnering with the Heritage Chapter of the NCTA for a work weekend June 10-11, 2017. We will be working on a section of the NCT in northwestern Wisconsin. No experience is necessary. Learn on the trail. All tools and equipment will be provided as well as meals if enough people sign up. Volunteers will also have free camping for the weekend but a WI State Park sticker will be required. Come for one day or both. Bonus: This is a great opportunity to check an item off your list for the Built It Challenge.

To sign up for the work weekend or for more information, call Kelly Ramstack at 920-540-9139. Please sign up by June 2nd.

Garlic Mustard Pull

The Fox Valley Sierra Club will continue the community service of pulling garlic mustard at High Cliff State Park and Memorial Park in Combined Locks. Although we can not give dates for an evening or morning of service now, please know we are recruiting members and friends to get on our list to call/email/text, now. We need to pull the garlic mustard before it goes to seed. That window of opportunity could be from mid-April to early June, depending on the weather. If you are interested in helping with this project, please contact Marjie Fendt at marjiefendt@gmail.com with your contact information. I would like your name, email, and phone number. (Texting might be the best quick message.) Also let me know if your preferred time to help is morning/evening and if Saturdays and/or Sundays are preferred.

Get your tickets to Green Bay's first annual Wild & Scenic Film Festival on April 20th at the Meyer Theater, presented by River Alliance of Wisconsin. See an incredible selection of award-winning, engaging, and eye-opening films that will leave you inspired and motivated to care for our natural world.
