Sincerely,

This holiday season, what Oklahomans really want is to give our children and families the promise of good health and clean energy.

Administrator Pruitt,

However, right now, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the very agency that is responsible for protecting our health from mercury and other dangerous pollution, is rolling back basic, life-saving health protections that would keep us all safe.

As Oklahoma Attorney General, you dismantled our state's environmental protection unit and refused to prosecute the corporate polluters that made our air and water unsafe. Now, you are betraying Oklahomans and the American people as head of the EPA. This is unacceptable. We need you to put families across America before special interest groups. Our loved ones have a right to clean air, clean water, and jobs in renewable energy that will provide a high quality of life for us all.
