

A CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS: WRITINGS and VISUAL ART

For an issue of the literary magazine Voices de la Luna
In Celebration of the 50th Anniversary of Earth Day

Earth in Peril / In Praise

Edited/Curated by members of
STONE IN STREAM/ROCA EN EL RIO
(Writers, Artists, and Activists for the Environment)

The February 2020 issue of Voices de la Luna, will focus on the environment – on Climate Chaos, Species Extinction, Biodiversity Loss, Environmental Justice (Peril), and the beauty, wonder, awareness, solace, celebration, of all forms of the natural world (Praise).

We're looking for your best writing – poems, short stories, flash fiction, memoir, essays, creative non-fiction, reviews – about the environment, our place, our commitment, our future.

And we're looking for images of art in all media – photography, painting, drawing, sculpture, fiber art, wood, glass, stone, graphic story telling –that addresses our environment, its beauty, its challenges.

For written materials, submission deadline is December 15, 2019, but earlier submission is much appreciated. Please submit Word Documents as attachments to Jim LaVilla-Havelin lavhav@gmail.com and Mobi Warren mobiwarren@gmail.com

For art work, submission deadline is December 15, 2019, earlier submission is much appreciated. Please submit as pdf to Lucia LaVilla-Havelin lavhav@gmail.com
