

Governor Cooper: Prioritize NC joining RGGI to cut carbon emissions

The Honorable Gov. Roy Cooper
Governor of North Carolina

Dear Governor Cooper:

We are grateful for your leadership on climate action for North Carolina. Your executive orders and Clean Energy Plan's carbon goals are pushing us in the right direction.

We must take more action. We ask you to publicly support our state's membership in the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative (RGGI).

The N.C. Environmental Management Commission approved a petition to begin the rulemaking process for joining RGGI in July. Eleven neighboring states have already joined RGGI, starting more than a decade ago, and they have seen tremendous health and economic benefits. Emissions from power plants have been cut nearly in half, almost twice the drop the rest of the country has experienced. While other states have seen their power bills rise nearly 9%, RGGI states' power bills have dropped almost 6%. These price drops combined with investments of RGGI revenue into energy efficiency projects have saved consumers $1.1 billion on energy bills so far. And those states' GDPs have grown almost 50%, about a third more than non-RGGI states.

Let's bring these benefits to North Carolina! And let's ensure the benefits are equitably shared among all North Carolinians. We ask you to work with underserved communities to ensure North Carolina's RGGI rules improve their health and quality of life, including implementation of local pollution monitoring.

Thank you for using your voice to address climate change.
