

Environmental Justice & Equity Plus Action on Pollinators!

Environmental justice, equity and key points about the Clean Energy Jobs Act (CEJA) were just part of the focus for HOI tabling at the George Washington Carver Center, south of downtown Peoria, on June 19th. Beautiful photos of butterflies and free milkweed seed packets added an attractive and colorful aspect for the display. Read More »

Climate Justice Rally in Springfield Continues Efforts for State Legislation

Over 100 people rallied at the state Capital on June 15th for equity, environmental justice, and the many climate principals in the pending Clean Energy Jobs Act (CEJA). Read More »

What Do You Notice about the Weather?

Anything making you feel concerned about the weather? Triple digit heat in Seattle, Portland, and cities in Canada catch your attention? Each and every one of us needs to think daily: what can I do to help the climate. Read More »

Mahomet Aquifer Danger: CAFO Planned for Mason County Area

A large, 2,480 hog Confined Animal Feeding Operation (CAFO) is being planned in the sandy reaches of western Mason County, between Havana and Kilbourne. The Mahomet Aquifer underlies this area and is unconfined, meaning the aquifer is not far below the surface and is overlain by soils that easily and quickly allow surface water to reach the aquifer.
