GEORGIA TRAILBLAZERS • CHAPTER & GROUP ELECTIONS ISSUE • BALLOTS DUE NOVEMBER 15 • PLUS • MARTA FOR GWINNETT • #OURWILDGA • CLEAN ENERGY FOR ALL ACROSS ATLANTA • LOCAL GROUP UPDATES • AND MORE
1983 is a year that holds special significance in our country for many reasons. It’s the year the first cellular network was brought online in Chicago, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.’s holiday was officially established by the U.S. Senate, Georgia Power announced their “homes of the future,” initiative, which would feature computer-controlled thermostats, energy efficient appliances, and solar PV technology, and it’s the year the Georgia Chapter of the Sierra Club was formed.

This special date set us on a trail that has led to many milestones and victories for our natural environment and the people involved in our movement, a trail that has continued for 35 years. Now is time for us to celebrate that work. Our 35th year as an organization marks the start of a new chapter tradition of recognizing the trailblazing leaders of our past and those who are setting the trails for our future. This October, we will honor our beloved volunteers for leading the way on clean air, land, and water, for protecting our forests, coast, wetlands, and mountains, and for investing themselves in building a sustainable, equitable environment for every Georgian.

I feel such gratitude to those leaders, volunteers, and staff who came before and who helped make the Georgia Sierra Club what it is today. I am so honored to be a part of this legacy. I hope you will join us as we commemorate this occasion with our Georgia Trailblazers Reception on Thursday, October 25 (event details on page 3). We could not have done it without you, and your continued support is crucial to help us continue our trailblazing work this year and in the years to come!

A Busy Summer

BY BETTYE HARRIS

CANDIDATE FORUM A SUCCESS

Among the highlights of our busy summer was a “Meet the Candidates Forum” we hosted on July 5 at Life University. Chapter ExCom leader Jeff Schoenberg was our moderator, and guests included a PSC candidate, three Cobb Commission candidates, and several Cobb area state legislative candidates. We were pleased to have a large audience turnout, local media coverage, and enthusiastic feedback. Thanks to our political committee for organizing this first-ever Centennial event.

RETURN TO EAST COBBER

We were glad to march again this year on September 15 for the annual and ever-popular East Cobber Parade & Festival. Our marchers donned hiking gear, rode bikes, and drove the Bell Family’s new electric vehicle in the parade.

MONTHLY GROUP MEETINGS

After a hiatus in August, we resumed our monthly meetings on September 6. Our guest speaker was Carol J. Hunter, the new Executive Director of Truly Living Well Center for Natural Urban Agriculture (TLW). TLW comprises an innovative and diverse team of growers and educators with unique community-building skills that they implement through urban agriculture. We learned about the important differences TLW makes in our community and hope to further explore, support, and promote its programs and initiatives.

Join us on October 4 for the return of our October Sustainability Summit, which promotes conversation and learning about sustainability issues. We will also use this summit to explore links between environmental quality and sustainable, healthy, safe communities for all. This will be the fourth summit in our series and will be held at the East Cobb Government Center, 4400 Lower Roswell Road, Marietta 30068 at 7 PM. Exhibits and sustainable refreshments will be featured.

Our November 1 meeting will be held at 7 PM in our regular room at Life University. Speaker and details to be announced. Finally, make sure to mark your calendars for our annual Holiday Potluck Party & Auction, which will be held on December 6 at 6:30 PM. The party will take place at the lovely Avery Gallery near the Square in Marietta. Special thanks to Shae and Gwenda Avery for letting us use their gallery again this year. More details on this event to follow. If you are interested in volunteering to help during the party, please email Lynn Walston at lynnwalston22@yahoo.com and Bettye Harris at bettyecharris@gmail.com.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

Please remember to vote in the Centennial Group and Georgia Chapter Executive Committee elections. Special thanks to our volunteers who agreed to stand for election: Linda Bell, Kyle Rinaudo, and Andrea Searles.

GREATER GWINNETT GROUP

SERVING GWINNETT COUNTY

Gwinnett's Future is on the Ballot

BY DAN FRIEDMAN

The November general elections will offer Gwinnett a stark choice: continue as we have or change to accommodate the future. At the state level, Stacey Abrams' positions on the environment, inclusion, and transit make her the clear choice for Georgia's next governor. Lindy Miller and Dawn Randolph bring a new vision for a sustainable future that includes clean energy, better jobs, and lower utility bills to the Public Service Commission.

In Gwinnett, we are working with County Commission candidates Ben Ku and Marlene Fosque to modernize the County Commission. Ben Ku brings financial and technical skills to his candidacy and supports transit to reduce congestion, assist the mobility of seniors, and improve infrastructure. Marlene Fosque supports Gwinnett joining MARTA and leveraging technology to provide better services and communication to Gwinnett citizens.

On the national level, District 7 U.S. House candidate Carolyn Bourdeaux supports transit as she recognizes increased commute costs and times. Her support of diversity and education make her the choice of the future for Gwinnett. Our members are working on these campaigns and encourage Gwinnett citizens to support these candidates with your votes, time, and donations.

Take Action this Fall!

BY NINA DUTTON

Election Day is coming up quickly, so make sure your vote is counted! Visit bit.ly/MVP-GA to make sure you are registered to vote, request an absentee ballot, find your early and election day voting locations, or view your sample ballot.

Note these important dates and spread the word:
- Tuesday, October 9: last day to register or update registration to vote in this year’s general election
- Monday, October 15: early voting begins
- Tuesday, November 6: general election day

The governor’s race is critical, but there are important races all the way down the ballot too. Don’t forget to vote in the Public Service Commissioner races at the end of your ballot. The Public Service Commission (PSC) is a group of five officials elected statewide tasked with regulating utilities, including Georgia Power. Members of the PSC can determine the rate Georgia Power customers pay for the electricity we use, as well as whether Georgia Power generates electricity from solar and wind or if it will keep relying on fossil fuels and nuclear power.

The Georgia Sierra Club is proud to have endorsed candidates in many races on the November 6 ballots. If you are interested in learning who your Sierra Club endorsed candidates are, visit the Georgia Chapter’s political webpage at sierraclub.org/georgia/political. Are you a Sierra Club member ready to volunteer to support endorsed candidates in your area? Email our group chair, Nina Dutton, at nddutton@gmail.com.

For a comprehensive and useful voter’s catalog (complete with important dates, information on elected positions, and interesting history), check out the Atlanta Jobs with Justice 2018 election catalog at bit.ly/VWJGAElections.

RECENT MEETING REPORTS

On July 10, we took a walk through the Ashford Forest Preserve in Brookhaven. Metro Atlanta Group executive committee member Eddie Ehlert and Ken Yates guided us along trails through the park as they pointed out highlights, including the headwaters of a tributary of North Peachtree Creek, unfurled the history of the land and nearby areas, and explained how the North DeKalb Greenspace Alliance and other advocates won a decades-long campaign to protect the land from development.

We did not have a regular meeting in August, but instead partnered with the Georgia Chapter RAIL Committee on Wednesday, September 19 to co-host a panel discussion event about transit expansion in Atlanta.

In 2016, Atlanta voters overwhelmingly approved a half-penny sales tax to fund the largest transit investment in our city in forty years. Earlier this year, MARTA released the proposed "More MARTA" expansion and improvement plan and gathered public input on the proposal through meetings and an online survey. At our presentation and panel discussion, we learned about the proposed "More MARTA" plan and joined a conversation with panelists representing a variety of perspectives on the plan. The speakers and panelists were Kyle Keahey, More MARTA program manager, Sherry Williams of Georgia STAND-UP, Angel Poventud of BeltLine Rail Now, and Betty Willis of Emory University and Clifton Community Partnership. After the event, we encouraged attendees to contact MARTA and other officials with their opinions on how the final plan should be formed. The MARTA Board votes on a final "More MARTA" plan on October 4.

RECENT OUTINGS

Our outings chair Max Brown was busy this summer with hikes at Cascade Springs Nature Preserve (June 16, co-led with West Atlanta Watershed Alliance), Arabia Mountain (July 21), and Boundary Waters Park (August 21).

Max is highlighting some of the interesting and beautiful parks we have in our metro area, with the hope that Sierrans who explore and enjoy these parks will be all the more inspired to protect our environment. Find out about upcoming outings at our monthly meetings, on our Facebook page, or on the Chapter’s online calendar.

ADOPT-A-STREAM MONITORING

Our Adopt-a-Stream activities focus on Peachtree Creek in Medlock Park. For biological monitoring, we need many eyes to find the macroinvertebrate critters found in the creek.

The next chance to get your feet wet (figuratively or literally!) on a day with both biological and chemical monitoring will be Saturday, December 15, from 10 AM – 12 PM. Chemical monitoring will be from 10 – 11 AM, and biological monitoring will take the full time. For information about chemical monitoring dates, call Larry Kloet at (404) 636-7226. For more details about biological monitoring, call Nancy Wylie at (404) 256-1172. Detailed directions are available at sierraclub.org/georgia/atlanta/adopt-stream-program.

GET INVOLVED!

GROUP INFORMATION

Our Executive Committee Meetings are open and generally held on the first Tuesday of the month (Athens Pizza, 7:30 p.m.). Contact Nina Dutton (nddutton@gmail.com) for details.

Monthly Meetings: The Metro Atlanta Group typically meets on the second Tuesday of each month. Typically our meetings feature a speaker on a timely topic. Our butterfly garden has been a success! It was designed to attract a variety of butterflies but especially serve monarchs. In fact, we have applied for status as a Monarch Waystation from the Monarch Foundation. We recently spotted both monarch adults and caterpillars on the tropical milkweed we planted! We’ll be on the lookout for pupae. Thanks to Judy Lawrence and Mary Lou Dabbs for taking charge of this project and to Georgia Interfaith Power and Light for funding it.

Several of our members participated in the Peoples Climate Movement rally and march in Columbus on September 8. This day of solidarity was part of the events organized nationwide to draw attention to the need for climate action. The Columbus stop was organized by the Columbus Indivisible group and included speakers, tabling, and a march.

With much coaching from former Chapter Director Colleen Kiernan, we made a presentation to LaGrange City Council asking them to sign a resolution against providing ratepayer financial support of the most recent cost overrun for Plant Vogtle reactors 3 and 4. Though we did not receive a commitment, we did at least speak out for Sierra Club concerns.

Vicky Hoover, a very focused and enthusiastic Sierra Club volunteer from the National Sierra Club office in Oakland, California, has been coaching us for several years on lobbying for the reauthorization of the Land and Water Conservation Fund. Though there are currently 230 representatives who have cosigned the bill, it is stuck in the Natural Resources committee because the committee chairman is opposed to it. We have been lobbying our U.S. representative Drew Ferguson persistently for several years. Now the deadline is September 30 and we keep plugging away, always keeping in mind the slogan “Think Globally, Act Locally.”

WELCOME, CORAL DOUGLAS!

We are pleased to welcome an intern from LaGrange College, Coral Douglas! Coral is in the servant scholar program at LaGrange College and serves as student representative on the college’s sustainability council. She has enthusiastically recruited more than 40 students to sign up for our email notifications and to team up for the upcoming West Point Lake Clean-Up event.

Celebrating the Start of the Savannah River Group and 35 Years of the Georgia Chapter

By Linda McBurney, Co-Chair

The idea for a Sierra Club group in Augusta began with Gene Weeks, a student in Judy Gordon’s botany class at Augusta University. Gene asked Judy if she had heard of the Sierra Club, and while she had not previously heard of the organization, she was quite interested in its environmental focus. She and Gene then began attending Sierra Club meetings in Columbia, South Carolina, the closest local group to Augusta.

In 1981, Gene and Judy asked the national Sierra Club for a membership list of the Augusta area’s surrounding counties. After reviewing the list, they decided that there were sufficient members that might support a local group, and so the Savannah River Group (SRG) was started.

From 1981 to 1989, Gene and Judy would switch off yearly as Group Chair while the other took on other positions. For a few years, there were less than ten members in SRG, but they persevered. Today, we have 371 members.

When SRG was formed, the Georgia/Alabama Regional Chapter and held their meetings in Alabama. SRG chose to stay with the South Carolina Chapter because they financed and supported us in those early years. After Georgia split from the combined Georgia/Alabama Regional Chapter and became its own chapter, SRG then belonged to both Georgia and South Carolina Chapters and served on both Executive Committees. Eventually, SRG voted to affiliate with the Georgia Chapter only.

Gene moved from the Augusta area many years ago while Judy, having held practically every leadership position over the last 37 years, continues to be involved with SRG as a leader and an activist. Thanks to Judy and Gene for starting the Savannah River Group and keeping it active and growing so that there is an environmental voice in Augusta.

MARTA Referendum Comes to Gwinnett County

BY ZACK FOX LOEHLE

For the first time in 30 years, MARTA has the chance to expand into Gwinnett County. On August 1, the Gwinnett County Board of Commissioners voted in favor of a transit referendum that will take place in a March 2019 special election. If the referendum is successful, MARTA will assume operation of Gwinnett County’s current bus service and expand heavy rail northwards along I-85. Ultimately, these changes would result in rail running as far as Gwinnett Place Mall in Duluth and expanded local bus service throughout the county.

Throughout this year, the Georgia Sierra Club has been hard at work on transit expansion. From the passage of HB 930, a bill creating a regional transit authority, to the recent Gwinnett MARTA decision, we are beginning to see real successes in efforts to bring mass transit to Atlanta. Aside from organizing support for the recent Gwinnett Board of Commissioners MARTA vote, organizers from our Centennial Group have been working in Cobb County to lay the groundwork for a similar referendum in the coming years. Meanwhile, the More MARTA sales tax will allow for significant transit expansion inside the perimeter. As MARTA’s board decides the best ways in which to use that new funding, the Georgia Sierra Club has been working to engage people from around the metro area in that process.

The Gwinnett referendum represents a significant change in the preferences of the northern Atlanta suburbs and a watershed moment for public transit in Atlanta. The county has stopped a northward MARTA expansion several times, most recently in 1990. But Gwinnett has been changing, growing younger, more diverse, and more populated (the county is rapidly approaching a population of one million). Gridlock and long commutes have helped change the collective attitude towards transit alternatives. Notably, corporations and young people consistently favor urban areas with mass transit. Thomasina Magbie, RAIL Committee co-chair, says that without adding public transportation, Gwinnett is likely to lose major corporations. “It’s a trickle-down effect,” Magbie said, adding that without transit, “you’re losing your brain trust in Gwinnett.” These changing attitudes are tangible. In multiple public surveys, over 50% of county residents have been in favor of mass transit.

With the Gwinnett transit vote happening in the March 2019 special election, rather than the general election in November, the Georgia Sierra Club is planning a campaign to support its passage. “We’re not going to be sitting on our hands until March,” said Tejas Kotak, another RAIL Committee co-chair. The Georgia Sierra Club is also committed to ensuring that the new rail and bus routes are effective in supporting everyone in the county, particularly those in low-income communities. “Once the referendum is passed, we will be working with MARTA and Gwinnett County to make sure it is as equitable as possible,” Kotak added.

#OurWildGA: Savannah Member “In Residence” at Smokies

BY MATTHEW EMMER, COASTAL GROUP MEMBER

The Great Smoky Mountains National Park plays host to a select handful of artists each year for their Artist-In-Residency program. This October, the most visited national park will host one of our members from the Coastal Group.

Matthew Emmer is a photographer based in Savannah and will spend the entire month covering the picturesque fall foliage. He will also connect with park rangers and guests alike in open conversations discussing the delicate balance of accessibility to nature’s beauty and the negative impact that can stem from millions of visitors each year.

Be sure to follow his time in the mountains by following his Instagram account @EmmerPhoto. If your travels take you to the Smokies this October, keep an eye out on the trails for our local artist and be sure to say “Hi!”

The Sierra Club sparked my enthusiasm from the first phone call: “You will be working on a Clean Energy Job Fair we are hosting in cooperation with the Latin American Association.” I could not believe my ears. I would be coordinating with the nonprofit for whom I had interned the previous summer. My supervisor, Brenda Cargin, explained that this partnership was part of a larger effort by the Sierra Juntos Committee to create a more inclusive Sierra Club. It was clear to me then that the Georgia Chapter of the Sierra Club has been making real strides towards inclusivity by choosing the Latin American Association (LAA) as a community partner. Last summer, I saw firsthand how the LAA serves as a hub for the metro Atlanta Latino community, with over 40,000 people a year benefitting from the organization’s job fairs, immigration services, Medicare renewals, college counseling, and more. Many members of the Latino community even get their first jobs through the LAA’s employment center. Our Clean Energy Job Fair initiative is the first of its kind at the Latin American Association, and it is certainly timely.

The City of Atlanta has made a commitment to be exclusively reliant on clean energy by 2035, and planning has begun to determine how that will be achieved. My participation this summer in both the Sierra Juntos and Clean Energy For All committees has shown me that the Georgia Sierra Club is working to make it a priority that all of our community reaps all of the benefits of a clean energy future. These efforts are not limited to fighting for clean air and more MARTA. This work must also include equitable access to employment in the expanding renewable energy sector.

As more businesses and homes install solar panels and invest in innovative insulation techniques and smart home technology, there will be a growing number of jobs to fill. The Clean Energy Job Fair is one effort to ensure members of the Latino community in Atlanta are better equipped for and connected to these opportunities. Come this November, the Sierra Club and the Latin American Association will be connecting job seekers to apprenticeship programs and employment opportunities in solar panel installation, energy efficiency, and large-scale recycling. Although I will unfortunately be back at school when the job fair takes place, I am proud to have been able to support a partnership of two organizations that I greatly admire.

Renewable energy is the new slate upon which we must imagine our future. Solar and wind power, expanded transit, and air free from pollutants will help guarantee bright new possibilities, relieving Atlantans from their current burdens of traffic troubles, code red smog alerts, and exorbitant energy bills.Forging relationships like this one between the Georgia Sierra Club and the Latin American Association will be a vital part of ensuring our 100 percent clean energy future is an equitable one.

CHAPTER AND GROUP ELECTIONS

GEORGIA CHAPTER

Justin Brightharp

LOCATION: LAWRENCEVILLE
MEMBER SINCE: 2018

I’m Justin Brightharp and I have been a member of the Sierra Club Georgia Chapter since 2018. My experience with the Sierra Club has been through my work at the City of Atlanta where I worked on deploying zero- and low-emission vehicles. The Georgia Chapter supported the policy changes happening for zero-emission vehicles at the City. The largest project I worked on with the group was educating the City of Atlanta through Neighborhood Planning Units and workshops of the 100 percent clean energy goal in 2017. In college, I participated in rallies supporting President Obama’s coal emissions standards and the Climate March as well.

If I am selected to join the Chapter’s Executive Committee, I will use my experience and current work on zero-emission vehicles and transportation, plus my passion for the environment. I believe that the Sierra Club–Georgia Chapter has opportunities to be a space for sustainability and how it interacts with technology. As technology continues to progress rapidly, I believe that the Sierra Club can serve as a facilitator to discuss ideas where technology enhances the message of the environment and the natural space is celebrated and protected. That celebration and protection can be done through developing programs around environmental equity, so others can learn about spreading the environmental message across a broader plane.

Shelby Buso

MEMBER SINCE: 2011

I very much appreciate the opportunity to be considered for the Georgia Sierra Club Executive Committee. As a Director of another nonprofit, I can certainly appreciate the amount of volunteer time necessary to function at a grassroots level. The Georgia Sierra Club has always impressed upon me how important it is to live the mantra of thinking globally while acting locally.

My first experience with the Georgia Sierra Club was canvassing for the Beltline when it was just a dream. Atlanta has come a long way in pushing the envelope to define sustainability in our region. I have worked at the city and state level to continue rethinking what it means to be “green,” specifically in development practices. While my professional work with the U.S. Green Building Council is focused primarily on the energy sector and the environmental impacts of the built environment, my educational background in conservation and wildlife management remains an itch that needs scratching. I am interested in using my nonprofit experience, my advocacy training through a juris doctorate and master’s degree of environmental law and policy, and my love for community development from the ground up to support the work of the Georgia Sierra Club in 2019.

Nancy Daves

LOCATION: ATLANTA
MEMBER SINCE: 2016

I moved to Atlanta two and a half years ago after retiring from NOAA’s Fisheries Service working on issues of domestic and international marine conservation. Examples of accomplishments during my career include establishing a structure for constituent groups to provide input to the implementation of the Marine Mammal Protection Act, coordinating all agency activities concerning international wildlife trade, and the initiation of a capacity-building program for developing countries to improve marine conservation.

I have been thrilled with the progressive issues and politics in which I have been able to participate in my new home. Because of my interest in the environment, the Sierra Club was one of the first organizations I joined, becoming a member in 2016. At the local level, I have coordinated the Metro Atlanta Group’s efforts to interview and endorse candidates during the Atlanta City Council election in 2017. I have also participated in get-out-the-vote efforts.

I have also been active in environmental and civic engagement since my move to Atlanta, resulting in my appointment to the governing boards of Georgia InterFaith Power and Light, Tybee Island Marine Science Center and New Georgia PowerPAC, a Georgia Women’s Political Action Committee. I also serve on advisory boards to the College of Arts and Sciences and the Institute for Water and Environmental Resilience of Stetson University.

All these activities and accomplishments will prepare me to serve on the Chapter Executive Committee.

Seth Gunning
LOCATION: ROSWELL
MEMBER SINCE: 2011

Thanks to the Georgia Sierra Club community for allowing me to re-introduce myself. My name is Seth Gunning. Like all of you, I am an environmental and social justice advocate. I am honored to serve as the current Secretary of the Georgia Chapter. I hope to continue my tenure on the Chapter Executive Committee and support our strategic vision and the sustainable growth of chapter fundraising in order to win our ambitious conservation goals.

After earning a degree in anthropology and sociology from Valdosta State University, I dedicated my professional life to serving people and organizing to protect the planet. I worked with the Southern Alliance for Clean Energy (SACE) to build the climate movement in the Southeast, with the Presbyterian Church (USA) to help faith-based initiatives working to eliminate food insecurity and spur economic development in traditionally marginalized communities, and with the Sierra Club’s Beyond Coal campaign as its Georgia Organizer from 2011 to 2014. In that role, I had the privilege of working with our members from around the state to end the development of new coal plants in Georgia, push regulators to approve Georgia Power’s first large-scale solar energy program, and pass the historic Clean Power Plan to protect the climate for future generations.

I currently work as a solar consultant with one of our state’s largest residential and small commercial solar companies and am passionate about making clean energy accessible. In my spare time, I am woodworking and exploring our planet with my pup Rylee.

A famous executive once said, “you can have brilliant ideas, but if you can’t get them across, your ideas won’t get you anywhere.” The art of communications is essential and undoubtedly one of the most important factors in pushing the work of any organization forward. I am running to serve on the Georgia Chapter Sierra Club Executive Committee to strengthen the communications efforts of the team, and effectively support media and messaging needs both internally and externally.

I am a fervent supporter of the Sierra Club. I have actively worked on campaigns and content for the Georgia Chapter and beyond. Currently, I serve as the communications manager for the Mayor’s Office of Resilience. In this role, I work on a wide range of environmental policy and programming. I work with city officials and environmental specialists to generate content on electric vehicles, waste diversion, urban agriculture, clean energy, water and energy efficiency. Specifically, with the Sierra Club I have directly worked with the Sierra Club Foundation, Sierra Club’s national Ready for 100 campaign, and our local 100ATL campaign. I have direct experience with stakeholder engagement through my work in the White House in the Office of Public Engagement.

Working with various organizations such as the National Black Farmers association concerning urban and rural agriculture and Viacom Media Networks in collaboration with Al Gore encouraging millennials to get involved in the fight against climate change and protecting the environment. I hope to serve the Georgia Chapter Sierra Club with adroitness and efficacy.

Protecting and exploring Georgia’s ecosystems is a priority for me and my family. I am currently on an extended road trip with my family exploring vast and diverse wilderness across the country. Whether kayaking through the Cohutta wilderness, hiking the trails around the wild and scenic Chattooga River, or serving in a professional capacity to mitigate climate impacts in our built environment, Georgia is home and where I am invested.

Environmental protection and advocacy are critical with current politics. My recent position as Deputy Director for Sustainability with the City of Atlanta has put me in a vital position to influence clean energy and petroleum-free transportation. Notably, I have significantly electrified the City’s fleet and passed nationally recognized policy to drive electric transportation. I have served on boards to revitalize creek banks with the removal of invasive species and implementation of multi-use trails. I have designed and executed the country’s largest municipal energy savings performance contract, reducing the City of Atlanta’s energy use by a projected 18%. Further, I have leveraged relationships with residents, businesses, non-profits, academic institutions, and government entities to employ innovative funding strategies, garner support, and evoke participation.

If elected, I intend to participate heavily in the conservation campaign committees, especially as it pertains to energy and transportation. Inviting new families and communities to explore our wilderness is also a core value to which I will contribute. I value Sierra Club’s accomplishments and ask that you allow me to serve with you.

Mark Woodall

LOCATION: WOODLAND
MEMBER SINCE: 1989

I am currently serving as Chapter Conservation Chair and Legislative Chair. Other positions held include six years as Chapter Chair.

The Sierra Club has a critical role to play in stopping catastrophic climate change and saving democracy. In view of the almost constant attacks of the Trump administration on clean air and water and national monuments and parks, it is easy to become discouraged. Rather than despair, there are many ways we can make progress here in Georgia. We have great opportunities to expand mass transit and the demand for 100% clean energy. We can protect our national forests and work to expand our state and local park systems.

If elected to ExCom, I will work to support our critical conservation efforts, increase ways for our members to get involved and enlist more Georgians to our effort. I would appreciate your vote.
It has been an exciting two years for me on the Centennial Executive Committee. We have worked on several important issues and I have been proud to be a part of those efforts. Our original group of Centennial members concerned about the 2008 Cobb Park Bond issue morphed into the Cobb Parks Coalition and after a year of showing up and speaking at commissioner meetings, the commission voted to issue a bond for $27.5 million for parkland! Likewise, Centennial members interested in expanded transit options for Cobb County have formed the Transit for Cobb group and are regularly meeting to further those objectives.

I have also enjoyed being the Political and Legislative Chair for the Centennial group as well as being on the Chapter Political Committee. We recently held a Candidate Forum and are actively interviewing local candidates for possible Sierra Club endorsement. In our present political environment, helping to elect environmental champions is critical.

I would be pleased to continue on the Centennial Executive Committee.

Kyle Rinaudo

I am a Cobb County native and a recent graduate of Georgetown University. In 2018, I was the youngest candidate for Georgia state office, running to represent Acworth and Kennesaw in Georgia’s House of Representatives.

A percussionist, runner, and music educator, I have always invested my spare time in my community and I continue to support progressive campaigns across the county. I ran for office to bring more environmentally sustainable policies to our state, including transit expansion, energy conservation, renewable energy investments, fuel emissions standards, and the growth of green space. I would be honored to serve on the Executive Committee to continue working on these issues and to make a change in our community and our state.

Andrea Searles

Within the last two years, I have addressed the needs of our community by supporting the transit issues in Cobb County. I have worked with our elected government officials and researched sustainable energy. I would like to continue working with the Executive Committee because I still believe that "to improve your community you must be active in the community." Along with being an active Sierra Club volunteer, I am affiliated with the Turner Chapel AME Missionary Society, Georgia Community Coalition, GCC, Cobb County Master Gardeners, HABESHA Urban Gardeners, and Atlanta Christian Cursillo.
Lagrange Group

Mary Lou Dabbs

I’ve been a Sierra Club member since 2002, and have been active in outings and events like West Point Lake clean-up work days. More recently, I have worked with local community members to encourage and facilitate the beginning of curb-side recycling in the city of LaGrange. My interests are gardening, environmental sustainability, and everything outdoors. My previous volunteer experience includes more than 20 years working with Literacy Volunteers of America and various roles at St. Mark’s Episcopal Church.

Coral Douglas

I am a junior at LaGrange College, majoring in music and business with minors in marketing design and servant leadership. I have always been fascinated by conservation and environmental practices. I grew up in a wholly environmentalist family, with my grandfather being a pioneer of battery technology in the early 1950s, and my father being a conservationist in the marine biology field. I grew up hearing about the perils of long lines and overfishing, let alone the malpractices of businesses dealing with oceanic conservation. From this, I developed my own passion for beneficial environmental practices. I am a passionate believer that we can reduce our negative impact on this earth while being able to work towards leaving a better place than we were given. I’m passionate about working in a team to be able to impact this earth on a larger level. Thank you for your consideration!

Metro Atlanta Group

Eddie Ehlert

I have been a member of the Club since the early 1990s and have been the Political Chair since 2009. I have been a member of the Metro Atlanta Group ExCom and Chapter ExCom at various points since 2010 as well. Since January 2017, I have been a member of the National Sierra Club Political Team and am liaison to most of the states in the Southeast.

My day job is owning and operating auto repair shops (MazdOnly and ToyOnly) so my understanding of the crucial importance for reduction of emissions and appropriate protection of stormwater runoff is an intrinsic part of my daily life. Zero-emission vehicles, ultra low-emission vehicles and low-emission vehicles are entirely necessary if we intend to continue a pattern of individual transportation.

Over the last six years, I have been deeply involved in bringing a 32-acre tract of forest into permanent conservation and public control in Brookhaven for public passive recreation. I’m also a paddler, boater, and am involved in protection of the waters in Lake Lanier as well as everything downstream.

Protecting the environment we all share is a goal I believe in, work for and live out.
