BROWARD SIERRA AND ALLIES OPPOSE EXPANSION OF COCONUT CREEK CASINO
– By Matthew Schwartz, Broward Sierra Group Conservation Chair

In late October, the Broward Group of the Sierra Club joined a coalition of south Florida environmental organizations in opposing a massive expansion of the Seminole Coconut Creek Casino. The casino is located at Sample Road and SR 441 in Coconut Creek. According to the Draft Environmental Impact Statement prepared by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the expansion would consist of “a 1,000-room twenty-story hotel tower adjacent to a resort-type pool and spa area, a conference center, and a 2,500 seat showroom facility.” The proposal would also expand the existing 7 story parking facility – currently the tallest building in Coconut Creek and the surrounding area.

While the Broward Sierra Group respects the long history of the Seminole Tribe in south Florida, we are also aware that the rapid build-out of our county has come at an enormous ecological price. The proposed project includes the largest hotel in South Florida and would likely bring tens of thousands of additional visitors and cars to the venue on a daily basis.

Ecological impacts would include: drawdowns of the Biscayne Aquifer, the sole source of drinking water for all of Broward County, with the potential for increased salt-water intrusion; increases in the amount of semi-treated wastewater discharged into the north Broward sewage outfall pipe (empties directly into the Atlantic Ocean); increase in traffic to two roadways (Sample Rd. and SR 441) already deemed to be “at capacity”; increase in polluted stormwater runoff entering both the aquifer and the Intracoastal Waterway; the high potential for migratory bird collisions with the proposed new hotel - by far the largest structure in the area and only about 6 miles from the Loxahatchee National Wildlife Refuge. Expected light pollution would also impact birds, while the added sky glow would contribute to sea turtle hatching disorientations miles to the east.

Broward County has already absorbed a great deal of development including the existing Seminole Hard Rock Resort and Casino in Hollywood. Coconut Creek is the first municipality in Florida certified as a “Community Wildlife Habitat” by the National Wildlife Federation and has won numerous other awards for sustainability. This is the wrong project for the future ecological health of the city, county, and the Greater Everglades.

The Broward Group was joined in its letter of opposition by South Florida Audubon, South Florida Wildlands Association, Reef Rescue, and Sea Turtle Oversight Protection, Inc. BROWARD GROUP POLITICAL COMMITTEE REPORT, ELECTIONS 2012

– By Brion Blackwelder, Broward Sierra Group Political Chair

One word sums it up: VICTORY.

Nationally, 2012 is recognized as the best election year for the environment since the era of the original Earth Day in 1970. Sierra Club endorsements on our Broward ballots were Barack Obama, Bill Nelson for the Senate, Congressional races of Lois Frankel, Debbie Wasserman Schultz, Ted Deutsch, Alcee Hastings, and Frederica Wilson, County Court Clerk Howard Forman, Property Appraiser Lori Parrish, School Board member Robin Bartleman, and Broward Soil and Water District commissioner Thaddeus Hamilton. None of our general election endorsed Broward candidates lost.

Adjacent counties elected Sierra-endorsed candidates for Congress (Murphy in Palm Beach County, Garcia in Miami-Dade). Voters rejected the significant state constitutional amendment proposals that Sierra opposed, which mainly involved limiting the capacity of both the state and local governments to collect the revenues needed to run an effective government.

Our process has been to notify by email all our members we could, of our endorsements, and to enable endorsed candidates to use the Sierra Club seal on their literature and web biographies, which many did. Each candidate was sent a detailed questionnaire early in the political season, asking details about water quality (such as about solving the nutrient related red tides), energy policy, climate change (such as whether they accept the conclusions of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change), natural areas programs, Everglades funding, and protection of Florida panthers and sea turtles.

The Broward Political Committee consisted of Phil Busey, Barbara Ruge, Mara Shlickman, Matthew Schwartz, and Brion Blackwelder (chair). They coordinated with a three-county regional committee, the state committee, and the national committee as the Club has a rigorous process for interviewing candidates and evaluating voting records, checking their announced positions, their funding, and poll information. A few solid supporters without major opposition were endorsed, but most of our general election candidates had vigorous, well-funded opponents. Many excellent persons who gained office were not in tight races so there are even more from whom we expect great things for the environment, than just our endorsed list.

Anti-environment forces wanted to have a banner year. They spent huge sums on candidates and ads (such as for “clean coal,” or how BP has made the Gulf better). And this was an odd year of voter suppression claims with huge delays at voter check-in computers, short duration for early voting days, giant eight page ballots, and impossible to comprehend residence-checking at the polls.

Each Club member who votes makes a difference, and it is crucial for all our members to get registered and keep making a difference, as we will say again for many years, “like we did in 2012”.

PUBLIC MEETINGS & PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD FOR THE I-75 MANAGED LANES PROJECT

– By Barbara Ruge, Broward Sierra Corresponding Secretary

The Broward Metropolitan Planning Organization (Broward MPO) will hold public meetings and consider approval of an amendment to the Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) to include the I-75 Managed Lanes project. The TIP is a federally mandated document that lists transportation projects and programs to be funded by federal, state and local governments and transportation agencies over a five year period in the Broward area. The purpose of the meetings is to hear public comments and consider actions. The I-75 Managed Lanes project has a total budget of over $400 million for fiscal year 2013. The public is invited to review and comment on the proposed amendment, which can be viewed at http://www.browardmpo.org/programs/transportation-improvement-program. The scheduled meetings below provide the public with opportunities to make verbal comments:

Technical Coordinating Committee: Mon., Nov. 26 at 2:15 pm; Community Involvement Roundtable: Tuesday, Nov. 27 at 6:00 pm; and Broward MPO Board on Thursday, December 13 at 9:30 am. (Final Action Taken)

All meetings are held in the Broward MPO Board Room, in the Trade Centre South Building, 100 West Cypress Creek Rd., #850, Ft. Lauderdale. Entrance is from Andrews Ave., just south of Cypress Creek Road. You can also submit email comments to ener@browardmpo.org.

Why is this important for Sierra Club members? Getting people out of their cars, efficient movement of people, air pollution, water pollution and consumption, overdevelopment, destruction of land and trees, threatened wildlife, are all Sierra Club issues for the future of Broward County. Sierrans must be informed and be ready to take action when necessary. Transportation planning

The Miami Sierra Club alerted us to the movie The Big Fix, which was shown at Miami Beach Cinematheque during the last week of October. The movie takes an in-depth look at the Deepwater Horizon debacle, not just from an environmental angle, but it also exposes the big-business profit related factors, the many political aspects and, ultimately, the self defeating denial of the many role players involved. Both Josh Tickell as Director and Peter Fonda as an Executive Producer, show us how BP circumvented all safety features for faster oil production. It was this policy which resulted in one of the biggest oil spill disasters in history. Besides the immediate demise of marine life in the Gulf of Mexico, the film now tells us that, NO, at present all is NOT well in the Gulf of Mexico. Even though Big (Oil) Business wants us to believe so, and is currently spending millions on TV ads trying to convince us of the Gulf’s present day pristine, prompt recovery, we are informed of the increasing marine/wildlife mutations, and a gigantic ominous layer of ‘oil debris’ on the sea bottom where the Gulf seems to be all but dead.

Another movie several Sierra ExCom members attended was “Who Bombed Judi Bari,” an account of environmentalists who, during the 90’s, stepped up to the plate to stop giant lumber companies from radically razing every remaining Redwood forest stand on the West Coast. The matter of fact quick and naive conclusion of law enforcement at the time, was to simply state that the car bombing, which critically injured Judi Bari, must have been due to its occupants transporting explosives in their vehicle. Only recently, after years of a lengthy lawsuit winding its way through the court system, were both activists completely cleared.

We also had the pleasure to meet with the film’s producer, Darryl Cherney, one of the major movement participants, who was in the car when the explosion took place. He took the time to answer questions after the movie. We know that there have been some environmentalist excesses, causing injuries and even loss of life. But as the movie accurately points out, to simply group all environmental activism under the heading, ‘dangerous tree huggers,’ is naively prejudicial, if not outright malicious slander.

Both movies did a superb job of showing the difference between

SAVE THIS “FLORIDA CHAMPION”

Developers want to move a 100-year old Champion Tree, the largest and oldest Rain Tree in the state of Florida! Most arborists agree that moving a tree this size will certainly kill it.

The Rain Tree is on the Broward County docket for public hearing on Tuesday, Dec. 11th at 2:00 pm to discuss designating it as “historic,” which would give it added protection. Sierrans, if your schedule allows, please consider attending this hearing to save this irreplaceable tree. The Sun-Sentinel article below provides details about the history of this unique and magnificent tree and the development that threatens its life. http://www.sun-sentinel.com/news/broward/fl-champion-rain-tree-2-20121021,0,7085930.story affects all persons. At the October meeting of the MPO-CIR, the FDOT presented the adjusted Urban Boundary and Functional Classification Map which must be approved by October 2013, and is for Federal funding purposes. I noted that the western boundary now moves slightly west of S.R. 27, which is in the Everglades, currently classified as “conservation area.” However, as environmental stewards, we must be aware of changes which could lead to further encroachments.

If you have not yet visited www.browardMPO.org, I welcome you to check it out. I hope you will find it as fascinating as I have. The Broward MPO staff are progressive transportation specialists and appear to be very conscientious of people’s health, quality of life, and preservation of our natural resources.
