The payoff is in the voting booth. We need every voter's help on November 5th, 1996 in order to repeat the two to one favorable margin by which this issue was approved the last time it came up for a decision by the voters.

Watch for the following notice on the ballot:

"Shall Article IV Sections 47(a) and 47(b) and 47(c) of the Missouri Constitution be amended to extend for ten years the sales tax of one-tenth of one percent for use in accordance with state law by the Department of Natural Resources for soil and water conservation and for the acquisition, development, maintenance, and operation of state parks and historic sites and for payment in lieu of real property taxes for land acquired by the state for park purposes?"

• There is NO tax increase: this is a continuation of the current tax authority,
• The tax authority will automatically expire in ten years. To continue beyond that time period, it must be renewed by the voters.

Approval of this ballot issue is vitally essential to provide for the continued revenue and funding for our nationally recognized, excellent system of State Parks and Historic Sites; and to continue the progress of reducing soil erosion and cleaning up our water supply.

Every member can help by educating their friends and neighbors, urging them to go to the polls and vote, help your local group hand out literature on election day, and writing letters to your local newspaper urging voters to support the issue. A voter education campaign is very expensive. We urge those who have the means to consider a special contribution to help defray the financial impact of this statewide effort.

In the Kansas City urban region, the campaign coordinator is Jennifer Finks. She may be reached at (816) 561-7950.

In St. Louis region the campaign coordinator is St. Louisans for Clean Water and State Parks (StLCW&SP) with offices located at the Coalition for the Environment, 6267 Delmar Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63130; (314) 727-0600.

Governor’s Commission Will Chart Transportation Course
by Ron McLinden

With or without a Sierra Club representative, Governor Carnahan’s Total Transportation Commission (TTC) is off to a reasonably good start. At its second meeting on September 24 the TTC kicked off the first phase of its work, identification of Missouri’s transportation needs, under guidance of a newly hired consultant team. It is anticipated that this needs assessment phase will involve preparation of two or more alternative visions of what Missouri’s future transportation system might be.

Significantly, the visions to be developed will be expressed as the outcomes the TTC wants from our transportation system — what they want our transportation system to do for us — not just what they think the state needs to spend money on. Thus, instead of saying Missouri needs to build (or not to build) X miles of new four-lane highways or operate Y route miles of public transit, the TTC might say we want a transportation system which respects and reinforces central cities and town centers; or one which makes it possible for any citizen to travel between any two county seats within one day without using a personal motor vehicle; or one which serves Missourians’ needs while resulting in an annual decrease in total transportation energy use.

Once these outcomes-oriented visions are prepared they’ll be developed to determine what specific mix of transportation modes would result in those outcomes, what they might cost and what their impacts will be.

To help it develop its alternative transportation visions, the TTC plans to hold five public hearings. Dates and places tentatively set for these hearings are:

- Nov. 12, St. Louis
- Nov. 14, Kirksville
- Nov. 18, Kansas City
- Nov 21, Cape Girardeau
- Dec. 3, Springfield

We encourage you to attend one

Think and Vote

by Gale Burrus

One of the most powerful memories I have of my senior year in high school is of several hundred students, including myself, waiting in line to register to vote. There had been debate for some time about whether the voting age in Missouri should be lowered to 18. People my age believed strongly that if someone could be drafted to fight in Vietnam at 18, then we were old enough to vote and have a voice in our country's government at 18. And when the law was changed, we felt we had not only the right, but the responsibility to vote.

In the 1992 presidential election, only 55.2 percent of registered voters bothered to vote. And many people aren't even registered. Perhaps these people don't vote because they don't think their one vote will make a difference but I've found U.S. history shows otherwise.

- California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas and Washington each became states by just one vote
- Lyndon B. Johnson became a U.S. senator in 1948 by one vote
- For Thomas E. Dewey, one more vote per precinct in Ohio and California would have meant his presidential election would have been thrown to the U.S.

Maybe many people don't vote because they believe the candidates they want to win are leading by so much that they don't need to get out and vote. But that can be a dangerous assumption if the majority of people think everyone else will cover their missing votes. Truman defeated Dewey probably because most Republicans stayed home, thinking that Dewey was expected to win by a landslide. In fact, only 51.5% of the electorate voted in that election.

And maybe some people are disappointed by the caliber of the politicians they see covered by the media. But as William E. Simon pointed out, "Bad politicians are sent to Washington by good people who don't vote."

Even the action not to vote is an action with a consequence that we may have to live with for a long time. For example, consider presidential appointments to the Supreme Court and the long-term societal effects those have. But the decision not to vote too often may be the "thought-less" way out. For this election, and for all elections please think and vote.

The payoff is in the voting booth!!!!

Sierra Club Announces Endorsed Candidates (listed by district)

There were many bills this past legislative session which addressed environmental and public health protection. Many of these bills, however, were aimed at reducing those protections. Fortunately, we had many friends who helped us defeat these anti-environmental bills. Following is a list of the Sierra Club endorsed candidates for the 1996 November elections.

U.S. President/Vice President
Bill Clinton/Al Gore The Sierra Club national board of directors voted to endorse the Clinton/Gore ticket shortly after Clinton’s decision to protect 1.8 million acres in Utah, including the Escalante-Grand Staircase area. Clinton was also cited for his leadership in staving off congressional attempts to overhaul environmental and public health protections.

U. S. Congress
Bill Clay (D-First Dist.) Clay has long been an environmental hero and consistently votes to support our environmental and public health protections, earning a 100% LCV score.

Dick Gephardt (D-Third Dist.) Gephardt is the Minority Floor Leader and is responsible for leading his party in the House of Representatives. He is a solid environmental voter with 77% LCV score.

Karen McCarthy (D-Fifth Dist.) Karen was one of the greenest members of the Missouri General Assembly and has continued her environmental protection in Washington, DC. Karen has a long history of supporting our issues and has made a mark in her first term in Congress with a 92% LCV score.

Ruth Bamberger (D-Seventh Dist.) Bamberger is a progressive candidate running for this open seat. She can be counted on to support our legislation and will be a solid advocate for our issues.

Missouri State Senate
Wayne Goode (D-13) Wayne has long been a champion of environmental causes in the Senate and chairs the Senate Commerce & Environment Committee.

Pat Gray (D-15) Pat is a very progressive candidate who should be a strong advocate for issues. She is the challenger in this race.

Ken Jacob (D-19) Ken is a long-time Representative and is running for this open seat. He has consistently been one of the highest scorers in our vote chart. He requested to be placed on the House Energy & Environment Committee at our suggestion and has been one of our strongest advocates in the House.

D. J. Gross (D-29) This is an open seat. D. J. is a progressive candidate running against a current representative who consistently votes against our legislation. She can be counted on to support our issues.

Missouri House of Representatives

Marvin McDonald (D-2) Marvin is a family farm activist and former professor at Kirksville. Marvin is active with Family Farms for the Future and participated in our Show-Me MO Green Environmental Lobby Day. He is the challenger.

Vicky Riback Wilson (D-25) Vicky was endorsed in her primary race. The Sierra Club endorsement is credited as the momentum swinger in what was a neck-in-neck race, and our endorsement is cited as one of the reasons she won. Vicky will also be a solid advocate for sustainable growth and environmental protection.

Chuck Graham (D-24) This is an open seat and Chuck was endorsed in his primary race. Environmental issues are very important to Chuck and he promises to be more than just a friend; Chuck will be an advocate.

Ted Farnen (D-21) Ted was a freshman in 1994 and has established himself as a solid advocate of our issues. Always receptive and cooperative, Ted can be counted on to support our legislation.

Tim Harlan (D-23) Tim was first elected in 1994, was endorsed in his first race and has quickly become one of our strongest supporters. He has sponsored our legislation, offered amendments on our behalf and continuously debated on our behalf.

Chuck Graham (D-24) This is an open seat and Chuck was endorsed in his primary race. Environmental issues are very important to Chuck and he promises to be more than just a friend; Chuck will be an advocate.

Vicky Riback Wilson (D-25) Vicky was endorsed in her primary race for this open seat. The Sierra Club endorsement is credited as the momentum swinger in what was a neck-in-neck race, and our endorsement is cited as one of the reasons she won. Vicky will also be a solid advocate for sustainable growth and environmental protection.

Meg Harding (D-30) Meg is the challenger in this race and is a longtime local activist. Environmental and public health is a central theme in her race and Meg promises to be an advocate of our issues. Her opponent is a 10% voter.

Scott Lakin (D-33) Scott is a solid supporter of our issues and can be counted on to vote for our legislation. He has been endorsed in both 1994 and 1996.

Rodger Fitzwater (D-36)  Rodger was first elected in 1994 and has become a solid supporter of environmental and public health protection. He was a strong supporter on the hog farm legislation and can be counted on to be a strong supporter of our issues.

Tim Van Zandt (D-38)  Tim was a freshman Representative in 1994 and has become a solid advocate of our issues. He consistently supports our legislation and has become a strong ally of ours.

Lloyd Daniel (D-42)  Lloyd is a staunch advocate for social justice and can be counted on to debate on our behalf. A solid supporter of our issues, Lloyd is unopposed in his re-election.

Steve McCluckie (D-44)  Steve has long been one of our strongest supporters and advocates. His 100% score for the 88th General Assembly pretty much says it all!

Pat Dougherty (D-67)  Pat wears his Sierra Club membership like a badge and is widely regarded as one of the greenest legislators in Jefferson City. He has consistently sponsored our legislation and serves on the House Energy & Environment Committee. He is unopposed.

Lana Stokan (D-76)  Lana was first elected in 1994 and quickly established herself as a solid advocate for progressive legislation and strong supporter of our issues.

Carol Stroker (D-78)  Carol is the challenger in this race. She was also endorsed in 1994 and lost in a very close race. Carol will be a strong advocate for progressive issues.

Sue Shear (D-83)  Sue has long been one of the most outspoken progressive legislators in Jefferson City. She is a solid, and vocal, supporter of our legislation.

Joan Bray (D-84)  Joan is one of the greenest legislators and one of our strongest supporters. She sponsors our legislation, offers amendments and continuously advocates our issues and legislation.

Chris Liese (D-85)  Chris was endorsed in 1994 and is a solid supporter of our legislation. He has sponsored our bills and offered amendments for us. He is also one of our few allies opposing the Page Avenue extension.

Deleta Williams (D-121)  Deleta is a solid environmental voter and supporter of our legislation. She is progressive and can be counted on to support our issues.

Mike Schilling (D-136)  Mike was endorsed in 1994 and is one of the strongest allies we have. He serves on the Energy & Environment Committee and is one of the most progressive, and green, legislators in Jefferson City.

- We've been kicked out of the legislative process by the most anti-environmental Congress EVER*.

Closer to home, we had the good fortune of working with a state legislature that wasn't too hostile. The average House environmental score was 50% and 47 Representatives scored over 70%. We had many successes including stopping the "Dirty Secrets" bill, passing legislation creating scholarships for minority students who pursue environmental studies and passing regulations on mega-hog farms. None of this was easy, and if 1996 is anything like 1994, it will be even harder to make forward progress. It would be a nice change of pace to work on legislation that we actually support, rather than opposing everything. "Yes, Mr. Chairman, I'm opposed to this, too."

We spent this summer talking to candidates, working on races all across the state and recruiting campaign volunteers for the various races in which the Sierra Club has been involved. Several of our friends are facing tough races and we need to be sure to reward them this election year. Some have been targeted by the extreme right, while others have been targeted by GOPAC, Newt Gingrich's personal Political Action Committee.

Here's your mission, should you choose to accept it: on Tuesday, November 5, GO VOTE. This special "Election Issue" of the Sierran highlights those candidates who have been endorsed by the Sierra Club and in whose races we've been particularly involved. Thanks to all who volunteered and got involved. Also included is the voting chart for the 88th General Assembly, at least for the House of Representatives.

Look at the vote chart before you cast your vote. It tells a pretty clear picture of who has been naughty and who has been nice. It also identifies those who scored under 25%. Let's do our best to find new jobs for these people.

Please do your part and go vote for the environment this election day.

of these hearings and to offer your own ideas. Call:

Ron McLinden at (816) 931-0498, Ginger Harris at (314) 432-2618, or Ken Midkiff at (573) 815-9250 early in November for the time and location of the hearing closest to you.

The second phase of the Commission's work will likely begin after the first of the year, and will involve developing specific proposals for financing the systems identified in the first phase. It is anticipated that a transportation funding package would be proposed to the General Assembly during the 1997 session, and perhaps submitted to the voters later next year for approval. That package would fund all modes of transportation — thus the “total” in the Commission’s name.
