Get in the Loop!
by Karen Hammer

Do you have a favorite hike that you wish an outings leader would plan? Or perhaps there’s a conservation issue requiring urgent action. Let’s use our Tehipite Chapter website to network! Many members do not realize there are six different lists that one can join in order to exchange information. One such list is the Conservation Forum. This is a great place to share sample conservation letters with the addresses of intended recipients, encouraging other members to write. Do you have an awesome presentation planned for the next general meeting and want to get the word out with plenty of lead time? Send an alert through the Announcements and Alerts list. Do you have a busy life and need to know the hike schedule well in advance? Get your favorite leader to send out his/her trip schedule for the coming months through the Outings Forum. These are only a few suggestions. By signing up for one or more of the lists and encouraging other people to do so, we can improve communication and involvement in club activities and environmental action.

In his 15 years of business, Sam’s files have grown to more than 50,000 images, ranging from 1970s Afghanistan to current projects here in California.

Sam’s mission is that his photography evoke an emotional response from viewers and, thus, inspire them to seek out, enjoy and protect the places his photographs represent. Consistent with his mission, Sam is a business sponsor of the California Wilderness Coalition, a member of One Percent for the Environment and a supporter of the Friends of Joshua Tree, where he is on the Board of Directors.

General Plan update for the City and County of Merced

Please see the Tehipite and Yokuts (Modesto area) chapter listings for outings. You can phone Rod Webster at (209) 723-4747 to coordinate carpooling.

Calendars, note and Christmas cards, and planners will soon be available. We are looking for a volunteer willing to sell these items. Contact Rod Webster or Annette Allsup if you are able to help us out.

We are in need of a laptop to use with our newly acquired projector. It doesn’t have to be fancy. If you are upgrading, please consider donating your old laptop to us for our programs.
We had hoped to include statements from all of the Executive Committee candidates. Unfortunately, the request for statements was made at the last minute, and we were able to obtain a statement from only one of the candidates before the publication deadline. We would like to publish that candidate's statement. However, the absence of other statements should in no way reflect badly upon those candidates. They may not have received the request in time.

Ron Mackie

My name is Ron Mackie and I am a candidate for election to the Tehipite Chapter Executive Committee. My background includes 37 years as a National Park Service ranger serving in three of our premiere areas—Grand Canyon, Yellowstone and Yosemite. I have been a member of our chapter for over ten years. My Sierra Club service includes delegate at large for the Sierra Club California Conservation Committee, member of the California Desert, California/Nevada Wilderness, Yosemite, and Rural Scholarship committees. I also serve on the Sierra Club National Parks Committee, along with two other members of our chapter. I have enjoyed my service with the Sierra Club as the Club shares so many of the goals of our Public Land Management agencies, particularly our National Parks. Public land management issues are my primary focus, as I also serve with other conservation groups including the Coalition Of Retired National Park Service Employees (CRNPR). CRNPR is extremely helpful in keeping me informed on National Park issues throughout the United States. I support the Sierra Club national leadership priority on the global warming/climate change debate. I would be delighted to serve on the chapter Executive Committee and will, if elected, continue my efforts in the broad spectrum of Sierra Club activities.
Oppose Initiative Effort to Skew Presidential Elections for Partisan Advantage

Sierra Club opposes an initiative proposal currently in circulation that would change California’s method of apportioning its electoral votes in presidential elections. The Golden State, like 47 other states, awards all of its electoral votes to the winner of the state’s popular vote. The initiative would award one electoral vote to the leading vote-getter in each congressional district, as is currently done in Maine and Nebraska.

While reforming the electoral college is a very legitimate topic for debate at the national level, this particular initiative is a transparently partisan ploy undertaken by Republican political operatives who are trying to offset the Democratic advantage in California without doing anything to address the Republican advantage in other big winner-take-all states, like Texas. As an environmental advocacy group that engages in the electoral process, we urge our members to decline to sign petitions for the measure, which is entitled “Presidential Electors. Political Party Nomination and Election by Congressional District.”

California/Nevada Wilderness Committee

The weekend of October 13th, I traveled to the James Preserve, a Southern California mountain retreat just east of Idyllwild, to meet with the Wilderness Committee. The Wilderness Committee is an interesting group of wilderness and forest advocates getting together quarterly to discuss California and Nevada wilderness issues. The new Bono bill was high on our list, along with the Boxer bill for Sequoia National Park, a potential Feinstein bill for desert areas, the San Gabriel Mountains campaign, and a Tejon Tehachapi proposal, all in California. Vicky Hoover, Chair, always provides lunch, dinner and breakfast for us.

Sunday included a hike in one of the regions we have discussed for wilderness. The day turned bright and sunny, after a fogged-in Saturday, and the hike to Cahuilla Mountain gave us a good view of these desert mountains in the proposed wilderness of the same name.

The next meeting will be February 10-11, 2008 in Shoshone (southeast of Death Valley National Park). Anyone interested? You are invited.
Ron Stork at Forester Pass

Ron Stork, formerly of our chapter, is now Senior Policy Advocate for Friends of the River in Sacramento. At our Awards Banquet on January 26th, he will share some of his experiences and expertise about rivers in our Central Valley.

Friends of the River is the oldest and largest river conservation organization in California and has played a key role in designating almost all of our wild and scenic rivers. But sadly, our rivers are in grave danger today. Not only are our rivers endangered, but one third of freshwater amphibian and fish species are at risk of extinction. Mark January 26th on your calendar.

Banquet tickets are $25. Checks should be made out to “Tehipite Chapter, Sierra Club.”

California has established a Travel Consumer Restitution Fund (TCRF) under the California Seller of Travel Act. The TCRF is not applicable to these Outings. Protecting Ursa Minor

The weekend of October 6-7, John and Marcia Rasmussen joined a volunteer work party in Sequoia National Park. The project involved carrying—by hand—hundreds of pounds of concrete mix along a steep, slippery trail to the mouth of Ursa Minor Cave. The volunteers spent the weekend constructing a carefully-engineered cave gate, which will protect the cave from curious tourists and deliberate vandals. Ursa Minor is a cave of world class beauty, discovered in August, 2006. It is currently open only for scientific study.
